

A Note from the Pastor

Greetings to you all in the name of our Triune God. What a blessing to celebrate a year in review with you all at our Annual Meeting...and to look forward to ministry and outreach into 2017. The church is being called to respond to our brothers and sisters in need like never before. Our local agencies are losing funding and those agencies help those in need...so it is up to me and you to make sure that our brothers and sisters are cared for, heard, lifted up in God's kingdom here and now...that is pretty daunting on a daily basis!

Here is a quote that I have on my iPad: "Do not be daunted by the enormity of the world's grief. Do justly, now. Love mercy, now. Walk humbly, now. You are not obligated to complete the work, but neither are you free to abandon it." This quote is supposedly from the Talmud which is the collection of Jewish law and tradition consisting of the Mishnah and the Gemara and being either the edition produced in Palestine a.d. c400 or the larger, more important one produced in Babylonia a.d. c500, although we can only find the quote in bits and pieces...but it also rings true for us in Micah 6:8.

We can all do a little everyday and that changes patterns and models love and respect. We get this! We can do this! This is what Jesus has done for us...little by little we are shown through his actions and words how to love others...even others whom no one else trusted...even those who were outsiders or just plain bad folks...Jesus shows us that we all are connected...that what we truly want is to thrive, to make a difference...to actually make it here and now and to live like we are called by the poet in Ecclesiastes. But it truly is daunting...all of the crime and poverty and emergencies. All of the people for whom we care hurting and suffering...that sometimes we push the joys aside...so find them again...find the joy in everyday living!

Some people stopped by my house the other day and gave me some jam that they had made. That was delightful. They don't have money to share. They don't have time to give away all of the time...but they can their own food...after gleaning from farmers...and then they share the goods! And they never forget me. Makes my day all of the time. They are life changing for me because they remind me what we are called to do...love one another without expecting anything in return.

So...go out of your comfort zone. Say hello to a stranger. Hold a conversation with someone with who holds different values than you do...listen without judgment...just listen...not to add advice, just listen. Sometimes that is all someone needs...and you are so gifted!
